

Doug Weber

CEEEn Scholarship Society President's Message

Now that we have passed the half way point of completing the new engineering building, there is a sense of urgency and excitement on the campus for the Grand Opening next fall. This new facility will provide an enhanced learning experience for students and more fully prepare them to make a greater impact throughout the world. It will also help BYU continue to attract the best and brightest. Read More

Richard Balling Retires
BYU Professor of 25 years, Dr. Richard Balling, Retires after Winter 2017 Semester.

Fernando Fonseca
Dr. Fernando Fonseca advances to the rank of Full Professor.

New Assistant Professor
Dr. Michael J. Borden joins the department as Assistant Professor.

Graduation 2017

Former CEEEn professor Dr. T. Leslie Youd had the privilege of being the key-note speaker for college convocations in August 2017. Read his convocation address here.

China Megainfrastructures Study Abroad

Read about this year’s China Megainfrastructure Study Abroad with Dr. Balling, Dr. Schultz and twelve other Civil Engineering Students. Read More.

Dave Anderson named employee of the year

Dave Anderson, department lab manager for 22-years, received the Outstanding Administrative Employee of the year award from Ira Fulton College of Engineering.

Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering
Ira Fulton College of Engineering