

Graduates and students from the Transportation Group had a BYU reunion during the Transportation Research Board 96th Annual Meeting, January 8 – 12, 2017, Washington, D.C.

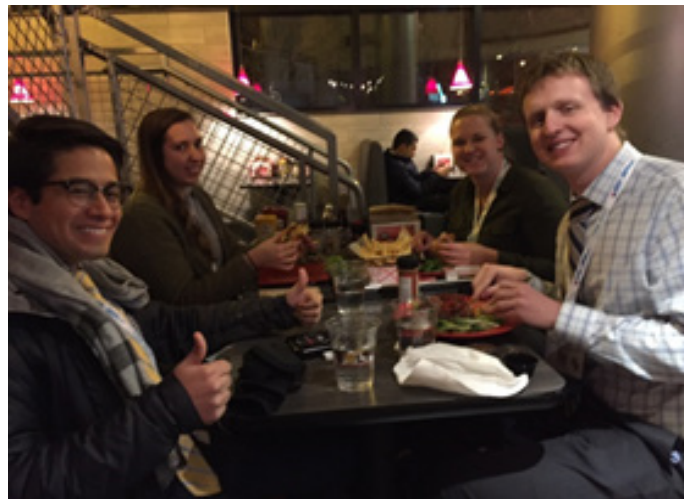

Dr. Saito again organized a BYU reunion for graduates and students of the Transportation Group during the Annual TRB Meeting. The event took place at the Bolt Hamburgers restaurant near the Annual Meeting venue, the Walter E. Washington Convention Center. This year sixteen graduates and students were able to join, the largest attendance since the reunion started a few years ago. Some of these students have obtained a doctorate degree or are pursuing a doctorate degree at BYU and other institutions. Some are currently in a MS program at various institutions, including BYU, and several have finished their master's degree and are currently working for consultants.

We are proud of them! Several other graduates who attended the TRB Annual Meeting were unable to attend the reunion. However, it our hope that the Alumni Association will eventually sponsor the annual reunion as it continues to grow.

Reported by Dr. Saito.

From left to right: Dr. Saito, Jordan Frustaci (MS now works for Kimley-Horn in Florida), Dr. Darrell Sontag (EPA Michigan), Scott Shea (PhD Candidate at U of U), Bryan Wilson (PhD student at Texas A&M), Alex Love (PhD candidate at UIUC).

From left to right: Greg Sanchez (MS, now works for Avenue Consultants), Sharlan Montgomery (PhD candidate at Purdue University), Tenli Waters (PhD student at BYU), and Calvin Clark (MS/PhD student at Georgia Tech).

Fom left to right: Marlee Seat (MS at BYU), Sam Mineer (MS, now work for JUB in Washington), Josh Alpers (MS at BYU), Lynn Jacobs (MS, now works for Fehr & Peers), and Dr. Carol Boulgaris (UCLA).

From left to right: Dr. Schultz, Aaron Cook (MS at UIUC), and Natalia Brown (MS at BYU)